Ritenour Senior
High School
9120 Bristol
St. Louis
Missouri

The noise, color, and lights of the Fourth of July fireworks display created an atmosphere of excitement and spirit. The 1969 school year at Ritenour Senior is one of excitement as new buildings and teachers add fresh life to the school. Enthusiastic students play an important role in maintaining our high level of school spirit.

Ritenour offers students many opportunities to participate in after-school activities. A few of the popular events are clubs, dances, sports, and concerts. A student who is involved in several of these contributes to the school and his own future.

There are two approaches one can take to music appreciation—as a creator or as a spectator. Many students at Ritenour, by their hard work during and after school, provide much of our musical entertainment. Whether the melodies are contemporary or traditional, Ritenour's music department always gives a good performance. Since good music also stimulates the listener, a large percentage of Ritenour's student body attends these concerts.

Battle Cry symbolizes the feeling of the students at Ritenour. There may be competition between the classes, but during a game everyone unites to stand behind Ritenour.

Chuck,

To a really great guy. Always stay as sweet and considerate as you are and you'll always be one of the "good guys." You'll always be a part of my memory of our great SENIOR year.

Best of luck in the future. May you succeed in all you do.

Many things are changing at Ritenour but one activity remains steadfast—Howdy Week. This special week is set aside to welcome sophomores to this school and show them the true spirit of our students. Each day has a different theme. The Howdy Dance is the culmination of the week. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors mingle and get acquainted while enjoying the music.

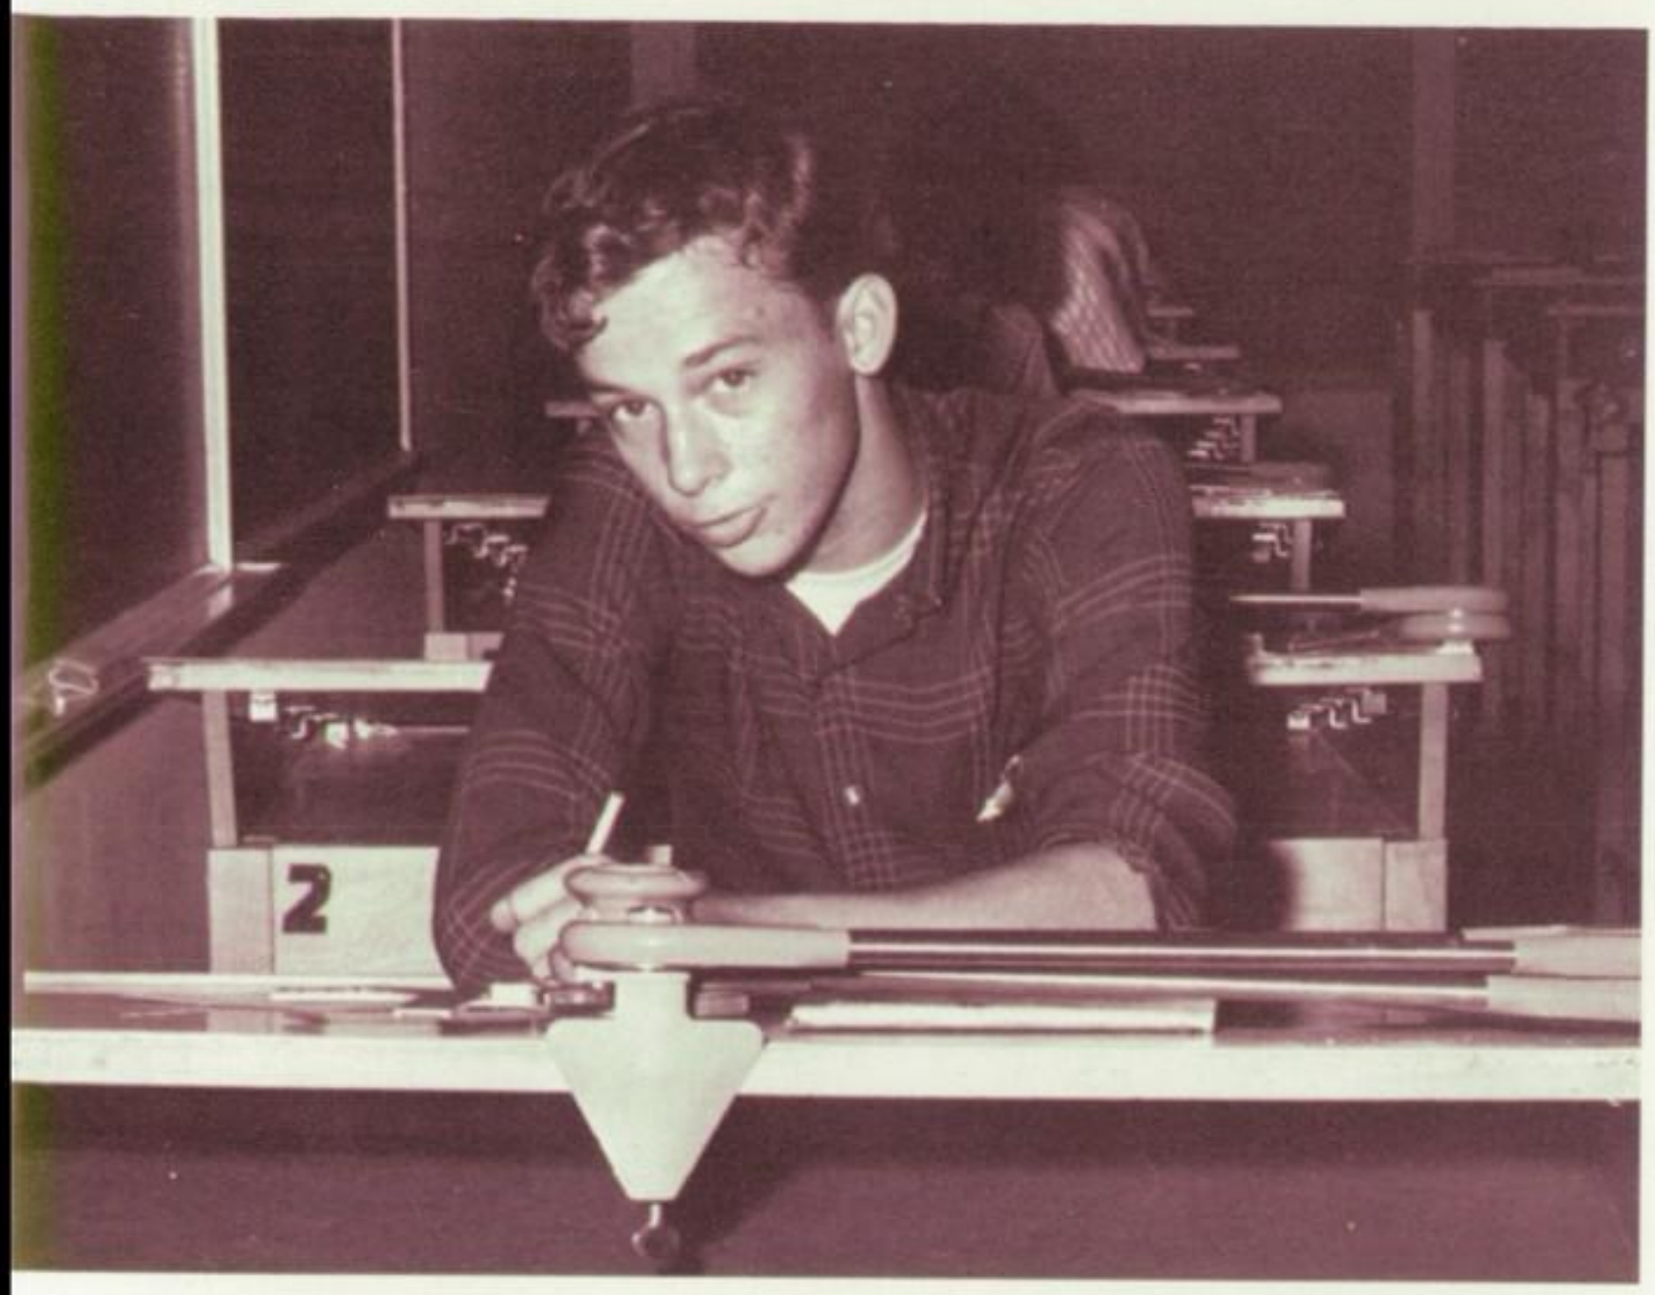
Chuck

Ritenour is a growing school. The need for higher education has changed the first one-room schoolhouse to a multi-story building. Some of the most important years of one's life are spent within the school learning and just having fun. The size of Ritenour cannot change this effect on its students.

John Waggaman '69



One of Ritenour's assets is a wide curriculum. This enables the students to choose the subjects that will best serve them in their chosen field. It is also important to have teachers who are competent and capable of presenting their subjects in an interesting manner.

A day at school consists of more than just crowded halls and the pressure of classwork. A slow walk after school on a sunny day may be the starting point of a lasting friendship.

81 Chuck,

Even though I've only known you A short while I've heard A lot About you AND I have gotten to know you Pretty Well. I hope I get to see you After we graduate AND leave All the rest OF these Kids behind. Good luck this SUMMAT AND HAVE FUN IN All you do. I know with your Personality that you won't have ANy trouble IN your Future endevors IN the coming yeARS. Remember me by Remembering good old MR. Rice's ANTHROPOLOGY CLASS. See yA this SUMMAT, I Love R.M.A.

FACULTY '69

Ritenour's faculty possesses superior ability and a concerned attitude for its students. These two factors greatly influence the desire to learn and the amount learned. The faculty members not only strive to help their students in the classroom, but they also devote much of their time to after school events.

By coordinating the activities of the students and faculty the administration makes it possible for everyone to benefit.

Planning of new facilities and curriculum takes careful consideration.

Mrs. Williamson, as Dir. of Pub. Rel., is extremely busy.

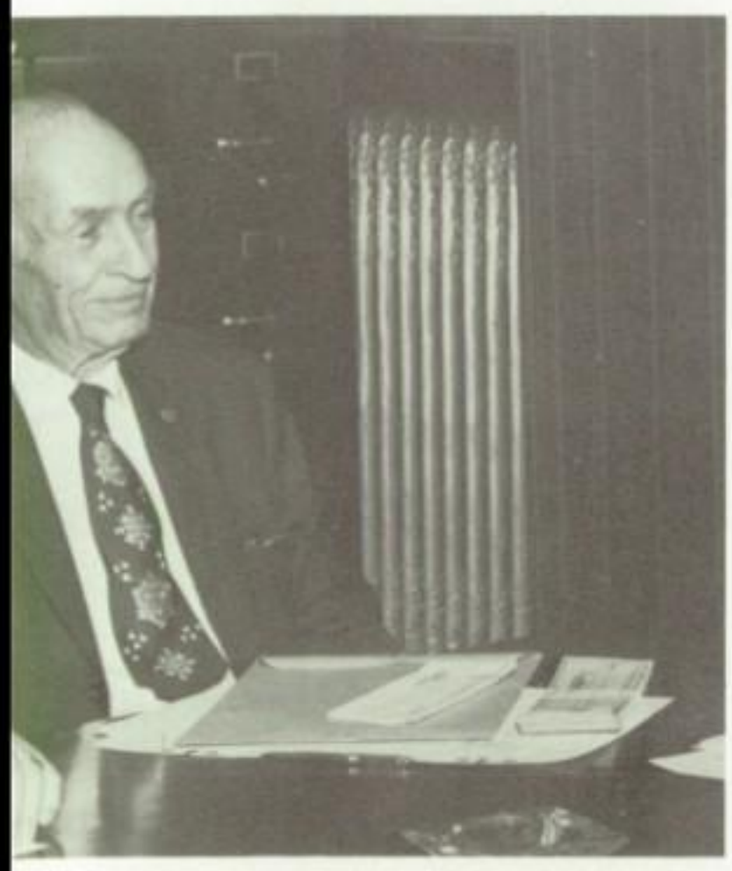
Board of Education '69

The Board of Education is an elected group of business and professional men who are very interested in improving the quality of education in their community.

The Superintendent and the Directors work together.

The meetings often last for a long period.

The job of President is a difficult one.



Mr. Wyland is the senior member of the Board.

Board meetings are sometimes amusing.

Mr. Evans

Mr. Evans, who is retiring this year, is a native of South Greenfield, Indiana. He received his A.B. degree from Central Wesleyan College in Warrenton, and graduated with honors as president of his class. He later completed a master's degree at the University of Missouri and did post-graduate work in Columbia and at Washington University.

In the years previous to his employment at Ritenour Mr. Evans worked in several jobs gaining valuable experience.

In 1949 Mr. Evans joined the Ritenour District as an assistant to the late Arthur A. Hoech, whom he succeeded as superintendent in 1957. He has given capable leadership to our district for many years. Mr. Evans has constantly promoted curriculum research in order to keep the district's program modern.

The two new schools which provide expert vocational-technical training for young people in St. Louis County were made possible largely through the efforts of Wendell L. Evans, who served as chairman of the Board of Directors for the St. Louis Co-operating School Districts vocational and technical program.

Mr. Evans influence will long be appreciated in the Ritenour District.

Wendell L. Evans, Superintendent of Schools.

Mr. Evans meets many types of people.

Several hours of his day are spent on the telephone.

Mrs. Lewitz has been his secretary for many years.

Mr. Evans has worked hard to obtain improvements for Ritenour.

Administration '69

The members of Ritenour's Administration assume the responsibility of maintaining school harmony and of diplomatically carrying out the established rules. Theirs is a difficult task, but they successfully overcome any obstacle. These men must be aware of their individual duties as well as the staff and school as a complete, functioning system.

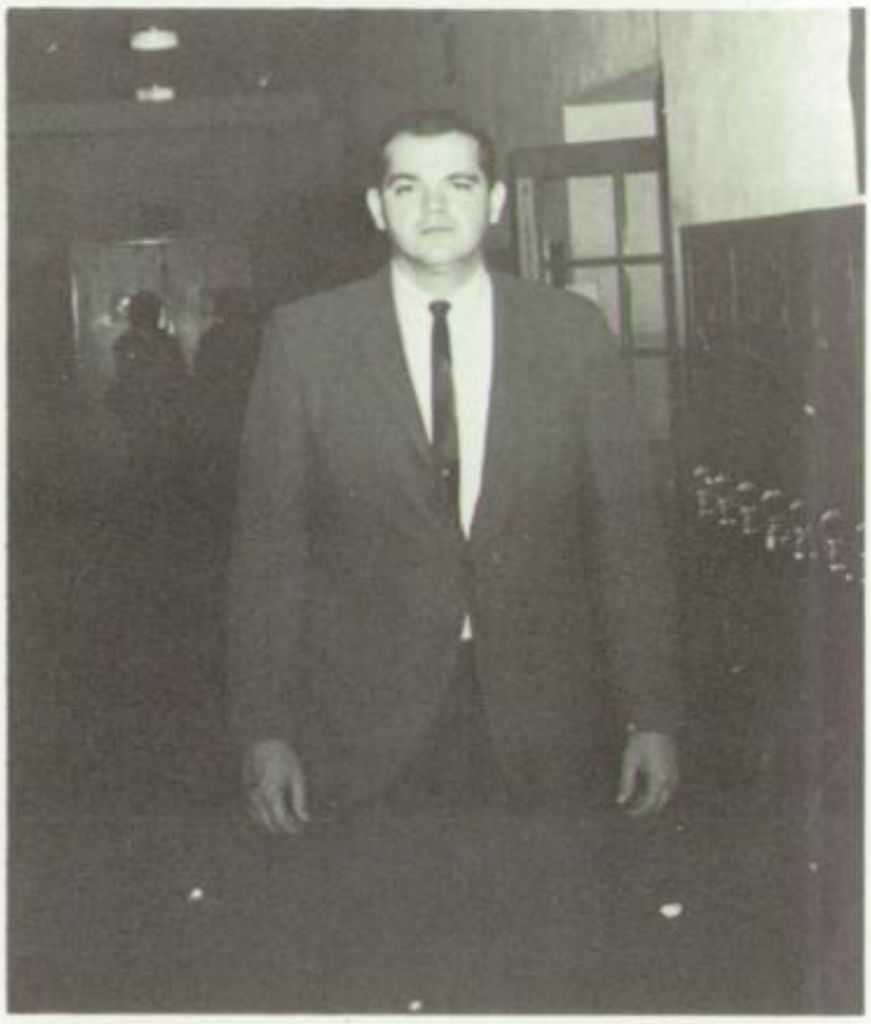
Mr. Trautwein's approval is necessary for the daily announcements.

Mr. A. K. Trautwein Principal

Mr. Cantley and Mrs. Foltyn discuss one of the problems of the day.

Mr. C. K. Cantley,
Assistant Principal

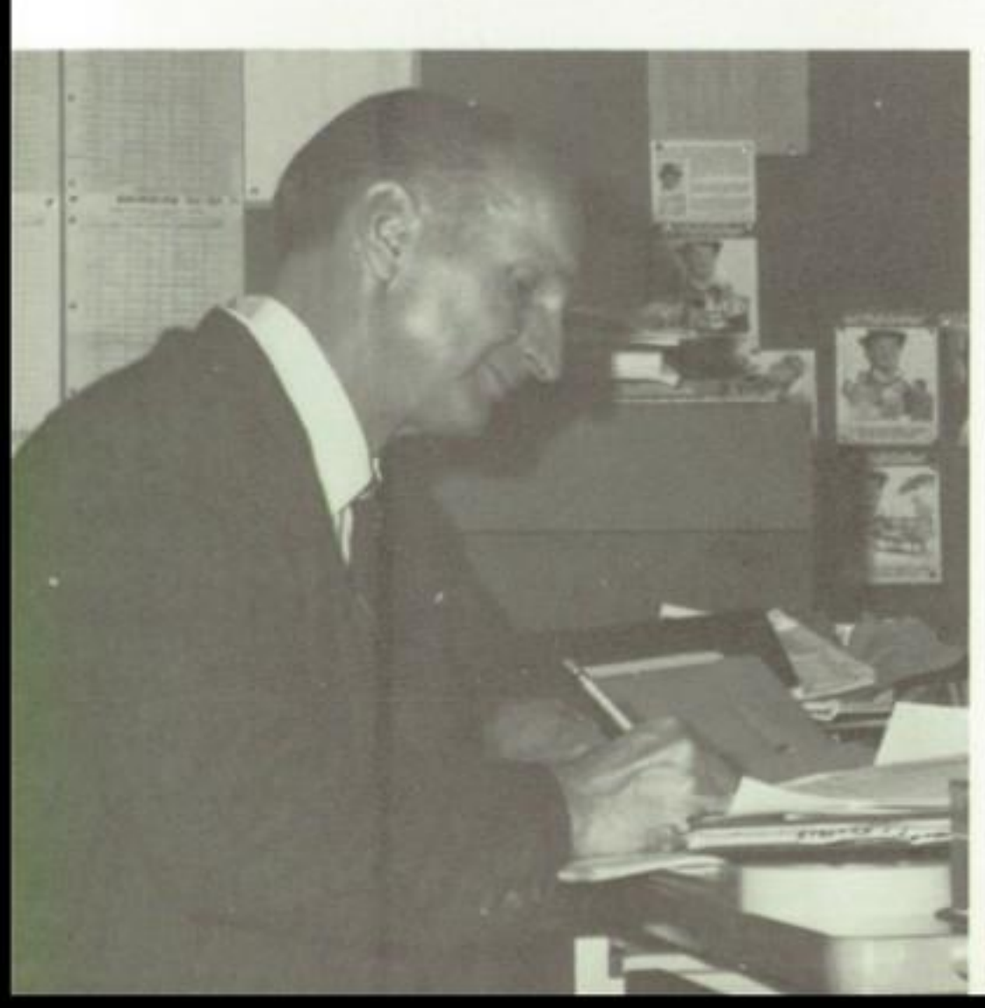
Mr. W. C. Smith
Assistant Principal



Mr. Smith is interested in innovations in the school curriculum.

Mr. Stokes advises the members of the Student Council.

Mr. Russell Stokes
Director of Activities



Mr. J. Moore

Guidance '69

The guidance counselors at Riten-our must advise students on all types of subjects. Their job is to always find a solution to any problem. They assist students in planning schedules and help them with problems at school. Students consult them about prospective careers. They must be available as quickly as possible when a crisis arises.

Cafeteria Workers '69

The cafeteria workers of Ritenour have done a good job and overcome many obstacles. While the cafeteria was under construction they had to adjust to the inconveniences and serve a nutritious meal in the boys' gym. After the completion of the cafeteria, they were able to return to the normal procedure. Their efforts produced a satisfying lunch for everyone.

Custodians '69

Custodians have the difficult task of maintaining Ritenour's outward appearance. With a united effort they keep the school in excellent condition and repair. Their labor is noticed and appreciated by the students and faculty.

Mr. G. Hinkel, Mr. K. McLaughlin, Mr. Camden.

SOPHOMORES '69

The sophomore year in high school is a very important one. The students must inquire into and explore the different activities at school. If they join and participate in several things, they will probably continue to do so in their future years at Ritenour. If they fail to do this, the years spent in school may be empty ones. The sophomore year is also one in which to learn. They become aware of what is expected of them and their responsibilities as a student at Ritenour.

JUNIORS '69

Students enjoy their junior year, since they no longer feel as insecure as they did during their sophomore year, nor do they have to worry about their future as the seniors.

During the year the juniors must work hard, since they have the responsibility for organizing many of the activities. The Prom is the major job and the juniors concentrate much of their energy and time to it.

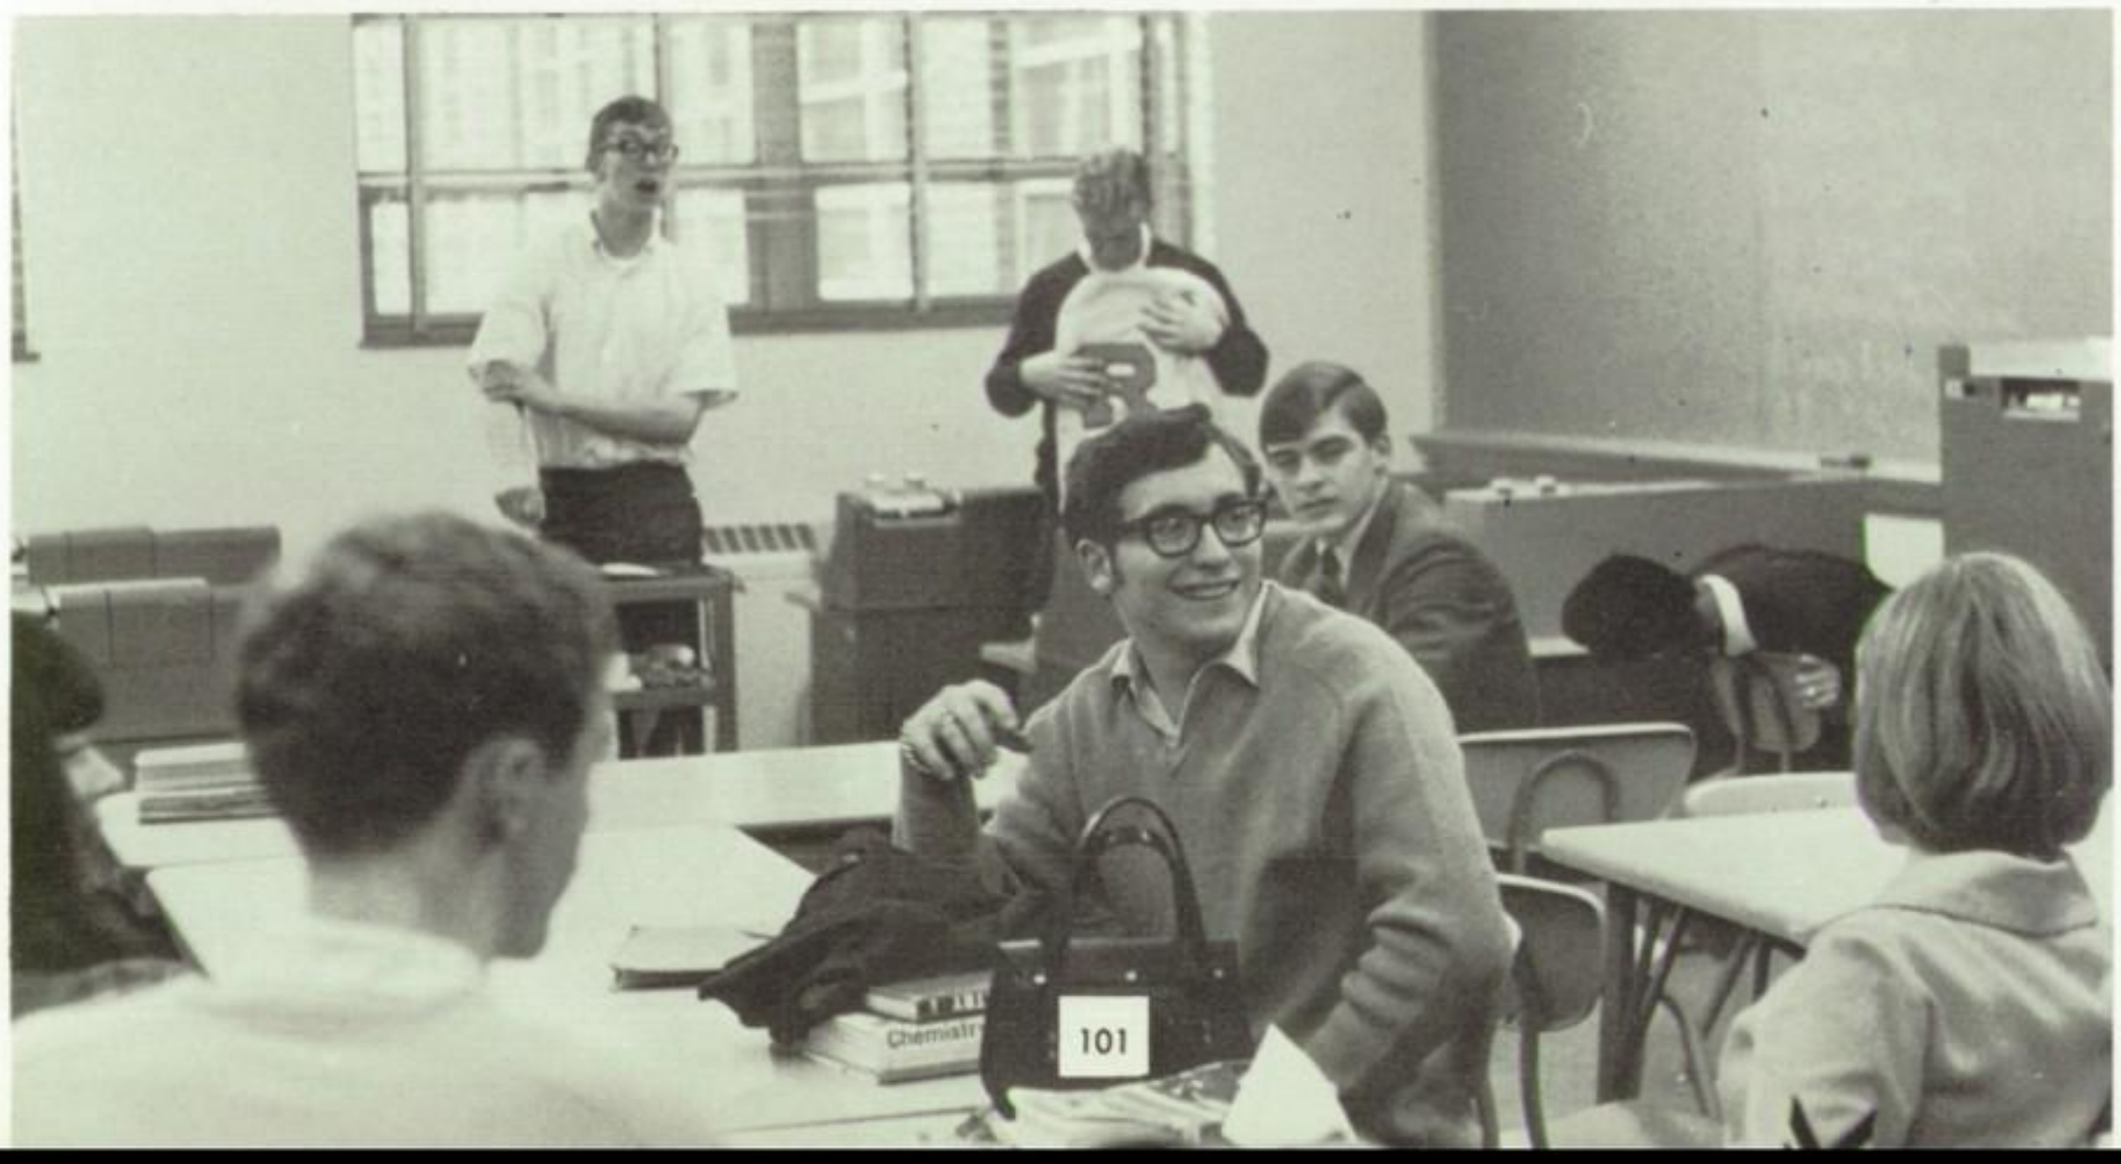
SENIORS '69

The senior's final year at Ritenour is probably his most important. For some, the senior year is concerned with thoughts and plans for college, while others use it to prepare themselves for a career following graduation. By utilizing the skills and attitudes he has developed through participation in activities, classes and clubs, during his four years of high school, the senior is prepared to take his position in the community as a responsible citizen.



Don't they make a good couple?

SPORTS '69

Sports can be the element that fuses the student body together. During a game the spectators and team members are one. Everyone earnestly wants Ritenour to be victorious.

Fair play and good sportsmanship learned from the games, whether win or lose, make a reputation for Ritenour and affect the students the rest of their lives. The enthusiasm and pride that result from winning a game channels into the different activities at school. Losing only stimulates everyone to strive harder.

Cross Country '69

Stamina is needed in any sport which involves running. Cross Country is no exception. Each runner must be determined to finish first.

A Cross Country meet requires a great deal of planning.

Coaching is a tense job.

Cross Country is an individual sport.

Exercises are important to loosen the muscles.

Swimming '69

Ritenour's 1969 swimming season was a victorious one. The swim team's desire for perfection and competitive spirit made them winners. Many of the boys excel in different swimming styles, allowing them to participate in several events. The swimmers must also be proficient in diving. A clean dive and a smooth entry gain points at a meet. Coach Tonioli's expert guidance has molded the swimmers into a strong team.

In wrestling, victory depends upon the individual. When the wrestler practices, listens to the instructions from his coach, and realizes that he is receiving support from the students and team, his chances of winning improve. The moment he is facing his opponent, though, everything depends on him. The 1969 Matmen are some of the finest wrestlers Ritenour has had.

Wrestling '69

FORWARDS: K. Schneider, J. Fishburn, S. Burleson, T. Palmer, S. Burton, D. Binsbacher, L. Fox.

Basketball '69

Basketball is a sport of continuous movement. There are very few instances when the players are stationary. The suspense during a free shot and the constantly fluctuating score add to the excitement of the game. Perhaps these are the reasons why basketball is one of the most popular sports at Ritenour.

GUARDS: J. Barth, B. Bryan, D. Ciszewski, J. Burlison, G. Lampe, J. Zykan, W. Mitchell, R. English.

MANAGERS AND COACHES: ROW 1—D. Null, D. Brock, R. Alletag, B. Hurst, ROW 2—Mr. Stewart, Mr. Platipodis, Mr. Whitehead.

Cheerleaders '69

The cheerleaders of Ritenour have the responsibility of attending all sports activities; as well as any of the extracurricular activities, each as an individual may be interested in. They must keep a cheerful attitude whether we win or lose.

WRESTLING CHEERLEADERS: ROW 1—V. Krekel, L. Lifritz, M. Amptmann, ROW 2—C. Kuhl, B. Kincaid, D. Bristow.

Girls's Basketball '69

Many girls find basketball a very exciting sport. The momentum and impetus built up during a game provides a challenge to win, plus an enjoyable sport. There are many skills required to become an accurate and efficient player. Not only must a girl play her best as an individual, but she must also remember the importance of being a member of a team working together as a complete competent unit.

Archery '69

Archery takes a good eye and a steady hand. It is becoming more and more popular as a sport.

Archery takes determination.

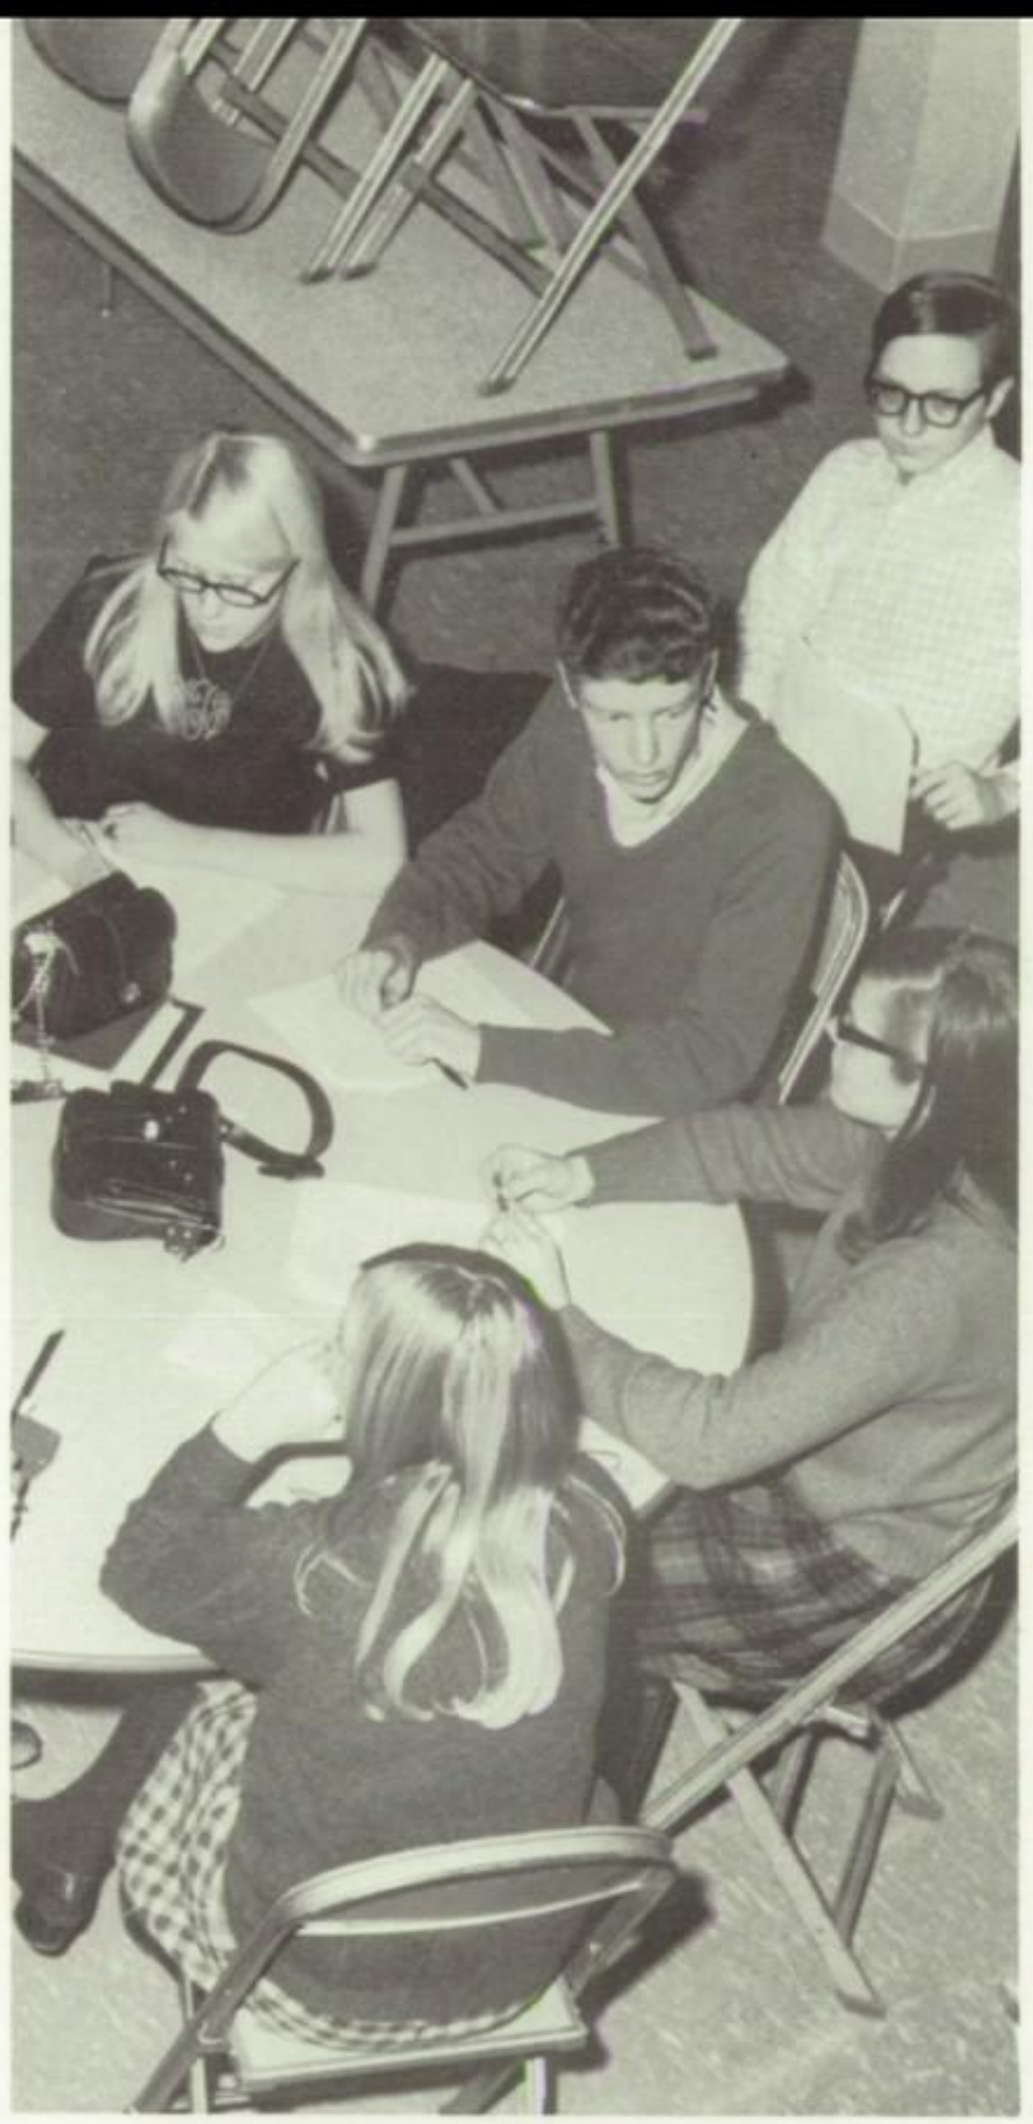
Miss Harrison demonstrates proper form.

Modern Dance '69

The skill and grace of many Ritenour girls is brought forth in their modern dance routines. After many hours of practice, the culmination of such hard work is their spring program.

MODERN DANCE: ROW 1—B. Loebar, S. Dortch, S. Czapliskie, B. Howing, ROW 2—Mrs. Durnin, A. Cole, M. Cullen, S. Burkholder, J. Bone, J. Layman.

Agility and good physical condition are essential.



CLUBS '69

Clubs and organizations are established according to the amount of interest and enthusiasm registered by Ritenour's student body. The activities of such groups include field trips, discussions, debates, performing for others, and publishing the schools periodical and yearbook. All the members of these activities and that which they produce represent Ritenour in the community.

The students who take part in extra-curricular activities find the time spent is worthwhile and rewarding. Not only do they learn about a specific subject, but they make new friends and become an essential part in creating school spirit.

Doug Smith, Vice President, Thomas Morgan, III, President, Sue Grawunder, Secretary, Rich Bliggenstorfer, Treasurer.

Student Council '69

Student Council fulfills an important function in the school. A representative is the communication between his homeroom and the administration. Many activities are developed and planned in Student Council or its committees.

Anyone showing oratorical talent is invited to participate in Debate Club. By representing Ritenour at tournaments and meets, a student is able to gain confidence as a public speaker.

And then . . .

Debate Club is not always serious.

Speech and Theater Club '69

The consolidation of two of Ritenour's clubs into one has proved to be an advantage to both. The Theater Section, which usually produces one or more plays a year, was improved by the trained speakers of the Speech Section. The play "Twelve Angry Jurors," presented by the Speech and Theater Club, was considered by many to be one of the finest dramatic productions staged at Ritenour in many years.

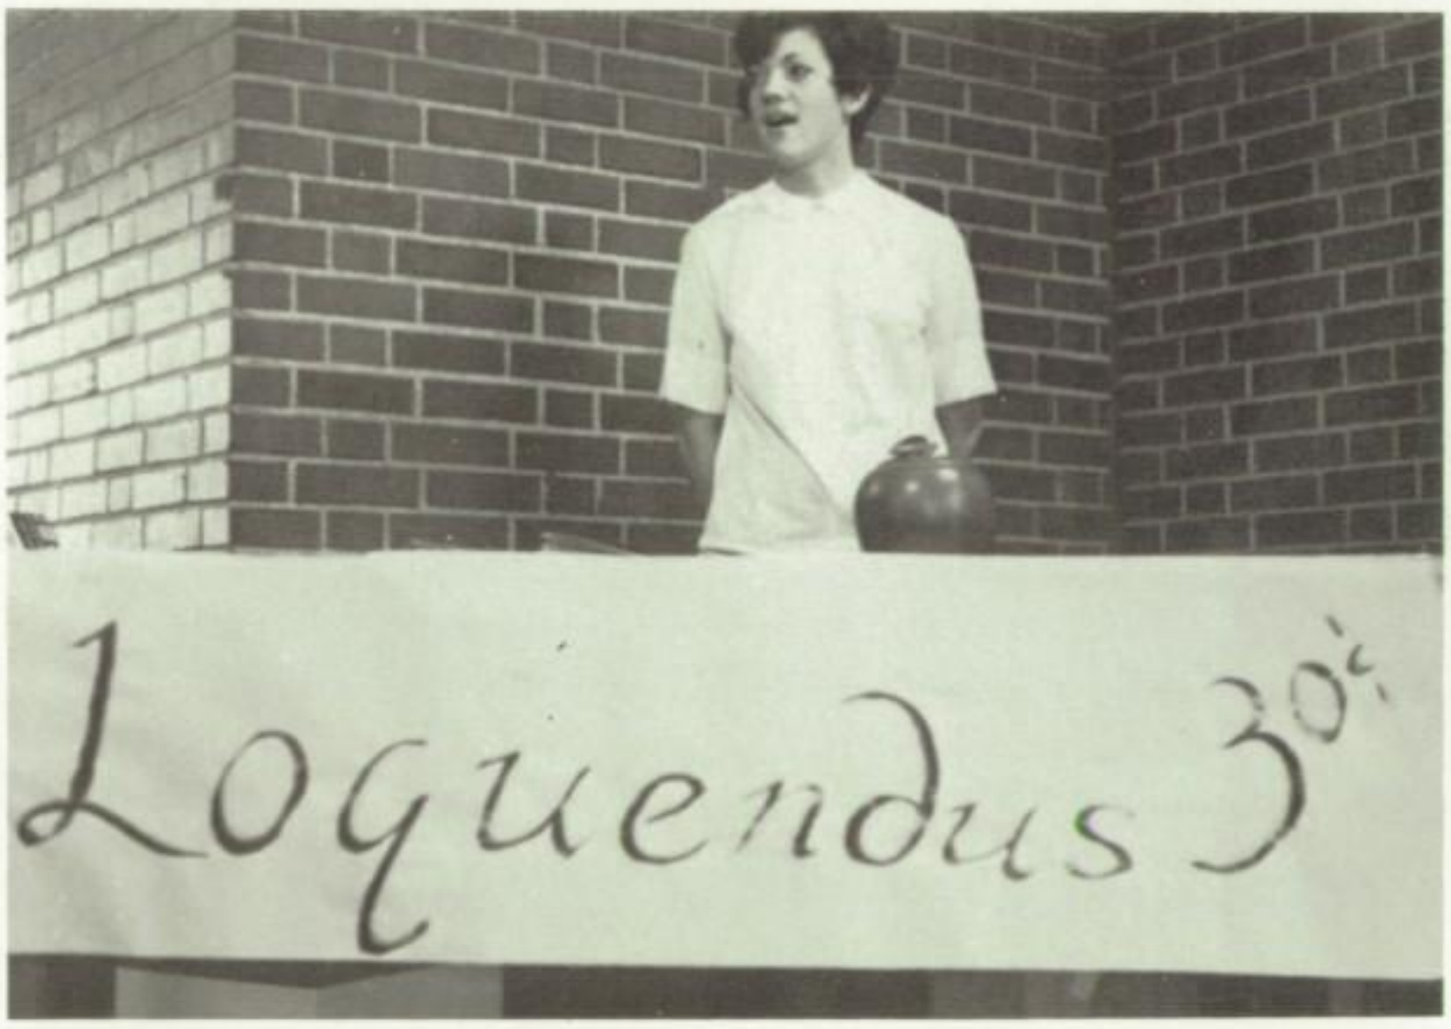
Loquendus Staff '69

After soliciting manuscripts for several months, the sophomores, juniors, and seniors on the Loquendus staff eliminate all but the best poetry and prose to produce a literary magazine.

As illustrated by the fall issue already published, Loquendus provides a cross section of the literary talent at Ritenour, and the spring issue should provide more of the same.

The criticisms and analyses projected by the staff members give them experience in the writing field.



Mrs. Kaiser, sponsor of Loquendus.

Ricky devotes much of her time to work in the library.

Library Assistants '69

Library assistants gain valuable experience while working in the library. Their dependability and reliance grow with the responsibility they are given.

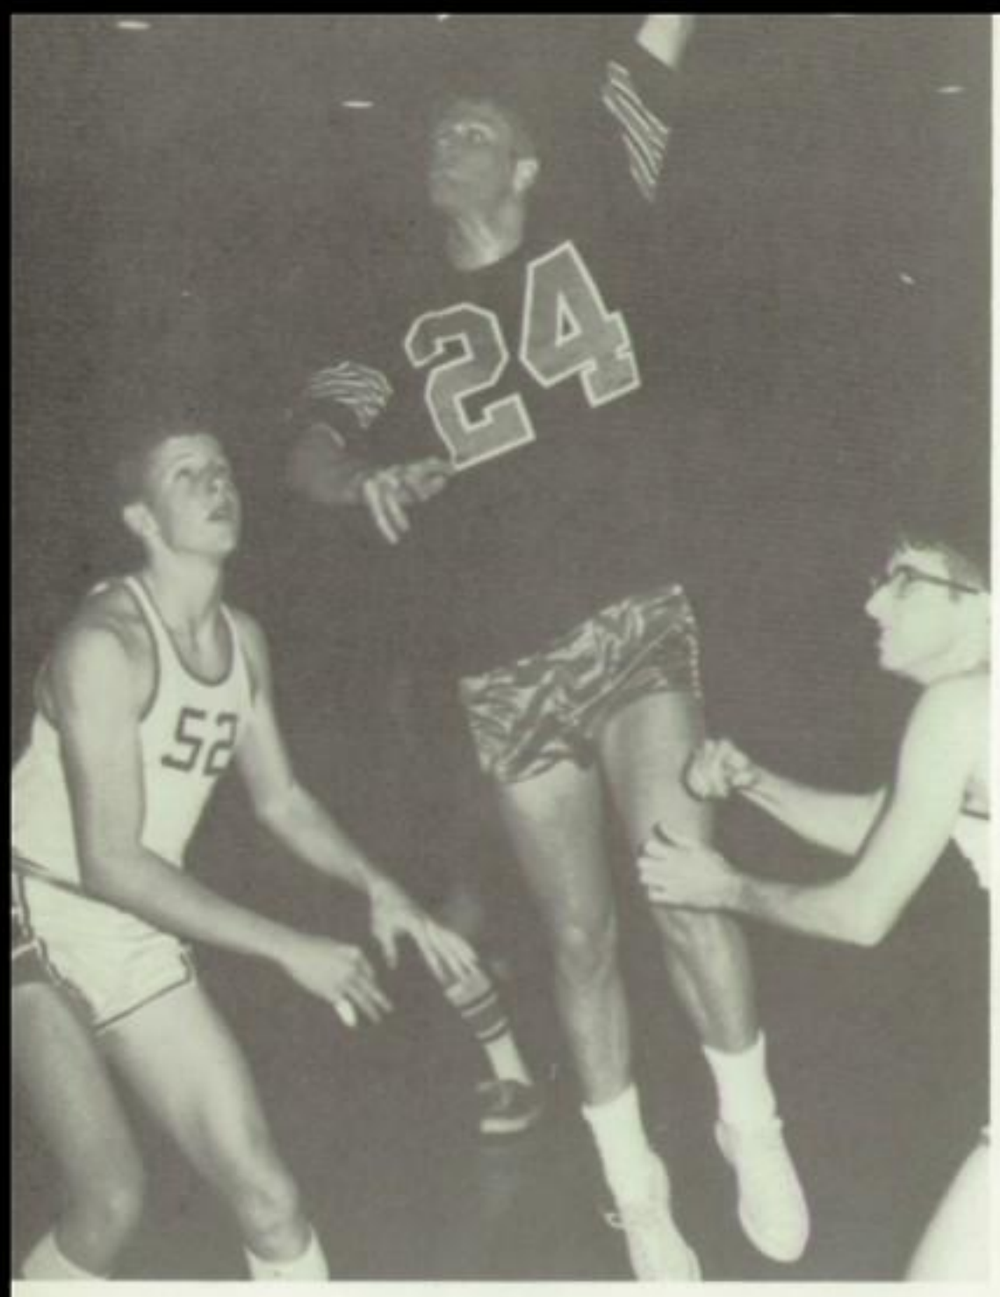
A.F.S. '69

The A.F.S. sends students to foreign countries. Funds for this are raised by a basketball game and a banquet. It also arranges homes for the foreign students who will attend Ritenour. The exchange students are from Italy and Switzerland this year.

The American Field Service widens the perspective of the students at Ritenour. It gives them a chance to find out how people in different countries live and what teenagers around the world think and do. It also allows them to see the United States through the eyes of a foreign exchange student, the good and the bad, and what needs changing.



A.F.S. sponsors an annual basketball game to raise funds.

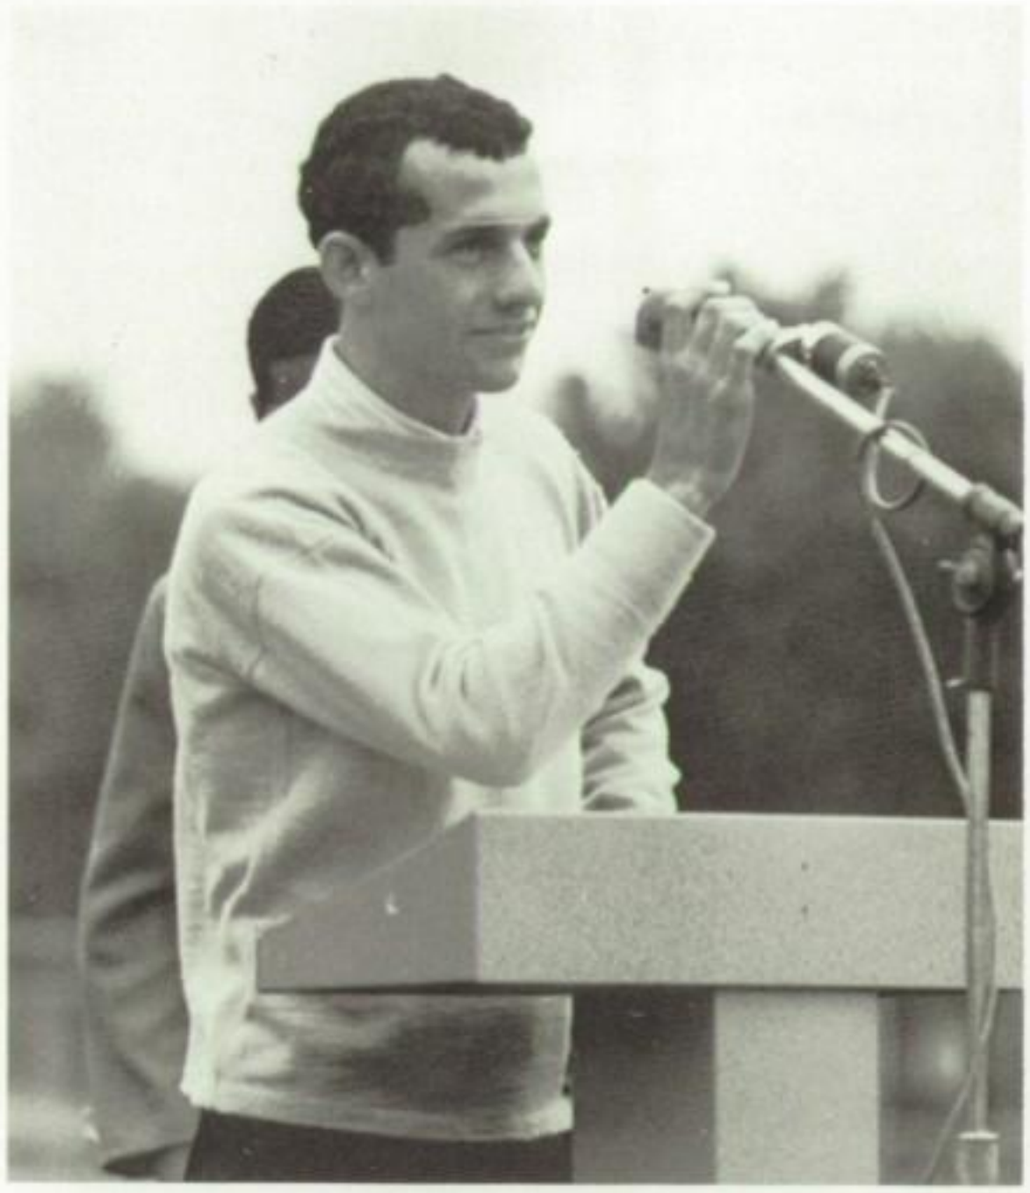
The A.F.S. Banquet provides an opportunity to meet interesting people.

Paolo Merlanti

Every year Ritenour receives foreign exchange students. This year we are proud to have received two students into our community. Paolo Merlanti from Italy is one of them.



Paul introduces himself at the Howdy Assembly.

The Grosses: Mr. Gross, Mrs. Gross, Paul, and Warren.

Just wait until he finds out that I can't play.

Paul and Warren share a love of music.

Augh! Are you trying to strangle me?

Paul enjoyed an American dinner at the AFS Banquet.

Paul was quick to learn our way of dancing.

The McNamees: Lynn, Jim, Mrs. and Mr. McNamee and Ted.

Photography is a special interest of Ted's.

The family pet and Ted get along well.

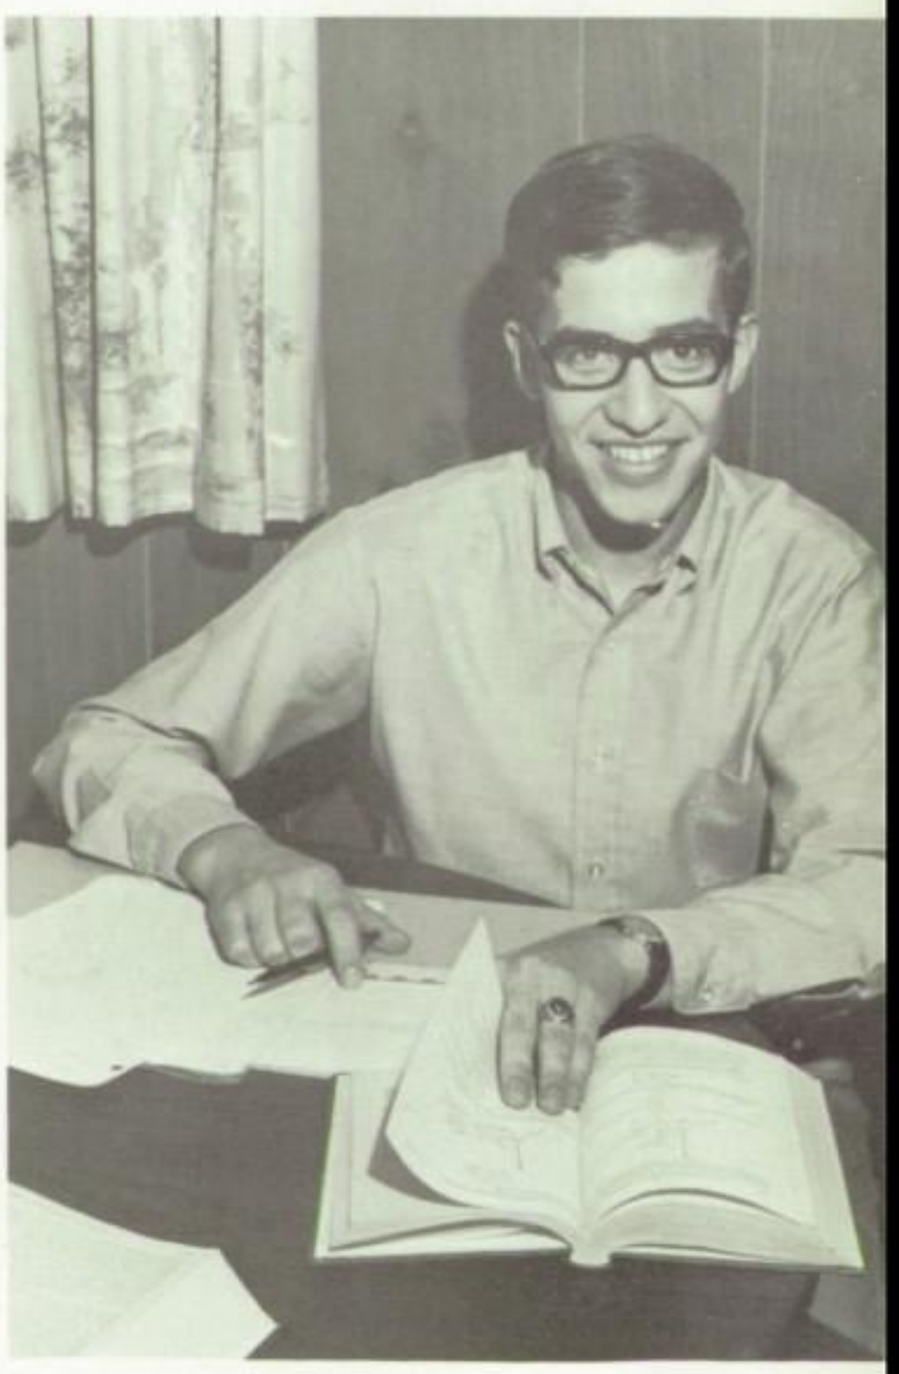
Ted Schroeder

Ritenour welcomes Ted Schroeder, and is happy to have his intellect and friendliness added to the student body. He has unofficially accepted the duties of explaining his country's culture, and people, besides expressing his own viewpoints to the students of Ritenour about the tradition and thoughts of the people of this area.

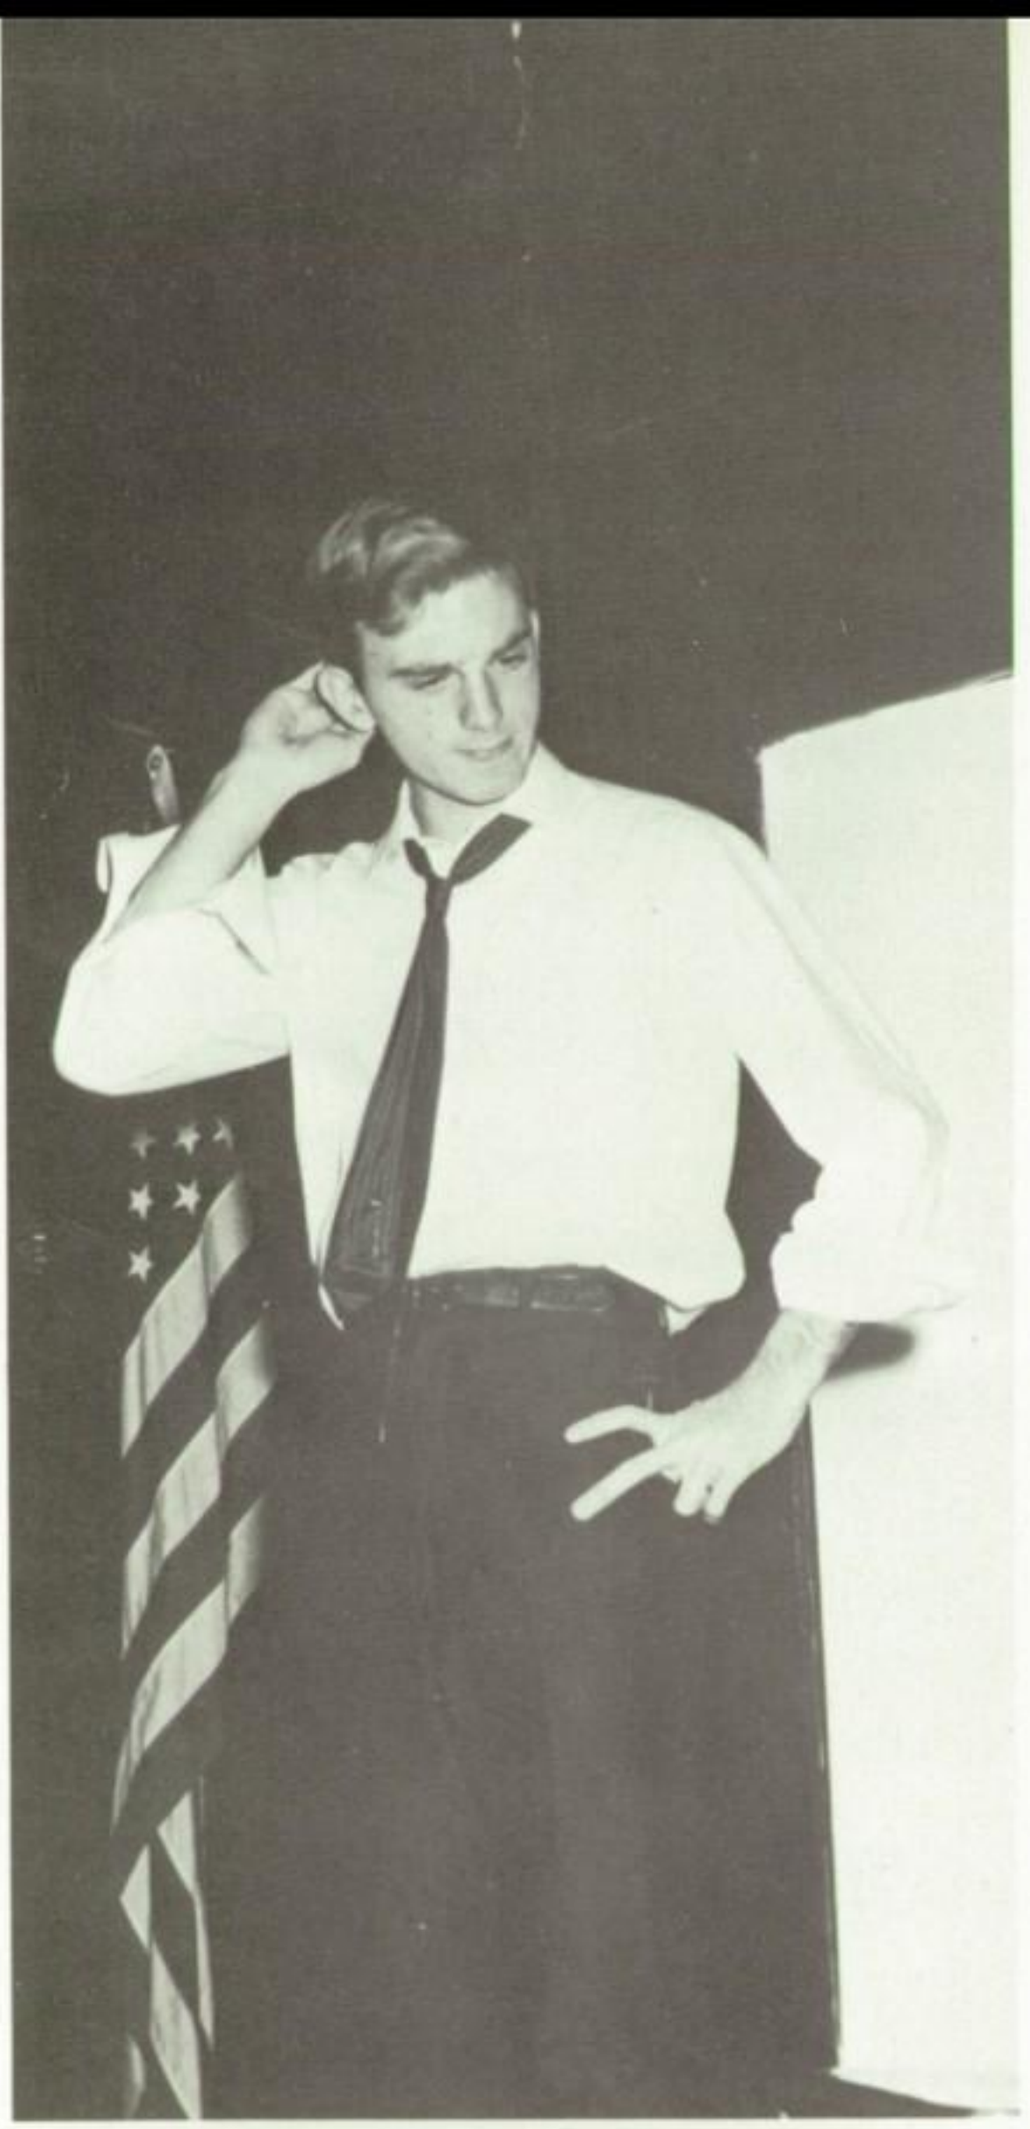
He enjoys skiing, is acquainted with seven foreign languages, and appreciates Stravinsky and Bach. Ted's keen interest is photography.

Ted's love of music is shared by his American family.

Ted, Jim, and Lynn often watch television together.



Ted continued his studies in mathematics.



FINE ARTS '69

Fine art involves the many facets of theater and music. The interests of the students range from marching band to acting. The orchestra and choir may perform in separate concerts or present a musical under the auspices of both directors, Mr. Eaton and Mr. Byers. The drama department also presents a play either humorous or dramatic for the benefit of those interested in the theater. Students also have the opportunity of performing as a marching precision unit and concert band. Each department enhances the students chance to learn about a specific field.

Summer Musical '69

The summer musical, CARNIVAL, presented the story of a girl from a small town who joined a traveling circus. Only then did she realize the true value of her home. While Lili helps Paul, the puppeteer, overcome his bitterness, they fall in love.

The people of the carnival gather for the parade.

Many of the actors used grease and grime for makeup.

The circus manager threatens to put Paul and Jacquot's act in a side show.

Marco the Magnificent performs his magic act.

Lili sings of her home town Mira.

Balloons, flags, and bright costumes helped make CARNIVAL colorful.

The jurors attempt to make their decision.

The cast played various types of roles.

Many people besides the actors worked on the play.

Twelve Angry Jurors

Eleven jurors are influenced by the twelfth juror to change their verdict. The play TWELVE ANGRY JURORS portrays Gerald Hutchin's fight to sway the jury. To do this he uses various methods including a re-enactment of the crime.

Majorettes '69

The Majorettes practice many hours creating original routines. They work with the band developing interesting and entertaining half-time shows for all the home football games.

MAJORETTES: C. Hayes, P. Landuyt, D. Boese, L. Kane.

A cheerful smile helps overcome the cold.

RHYTHMETTES: ROW 1—G. Demmy, E. Ham, B. O'Sullivan, P. Long, F. Dickey, T. Thrasher, B. Sublett, ROW 2—J. Biermann, N. Beaudoin, L. Bostic, L. Core, K. Wilde, K. Dunn, C. Medlock.

Rythmettes '69

The girls of the Rhythmettes must be graceful and possess a sense of rhythm. They devote much of their time to this organization which performs during the half time shows of the home football games.

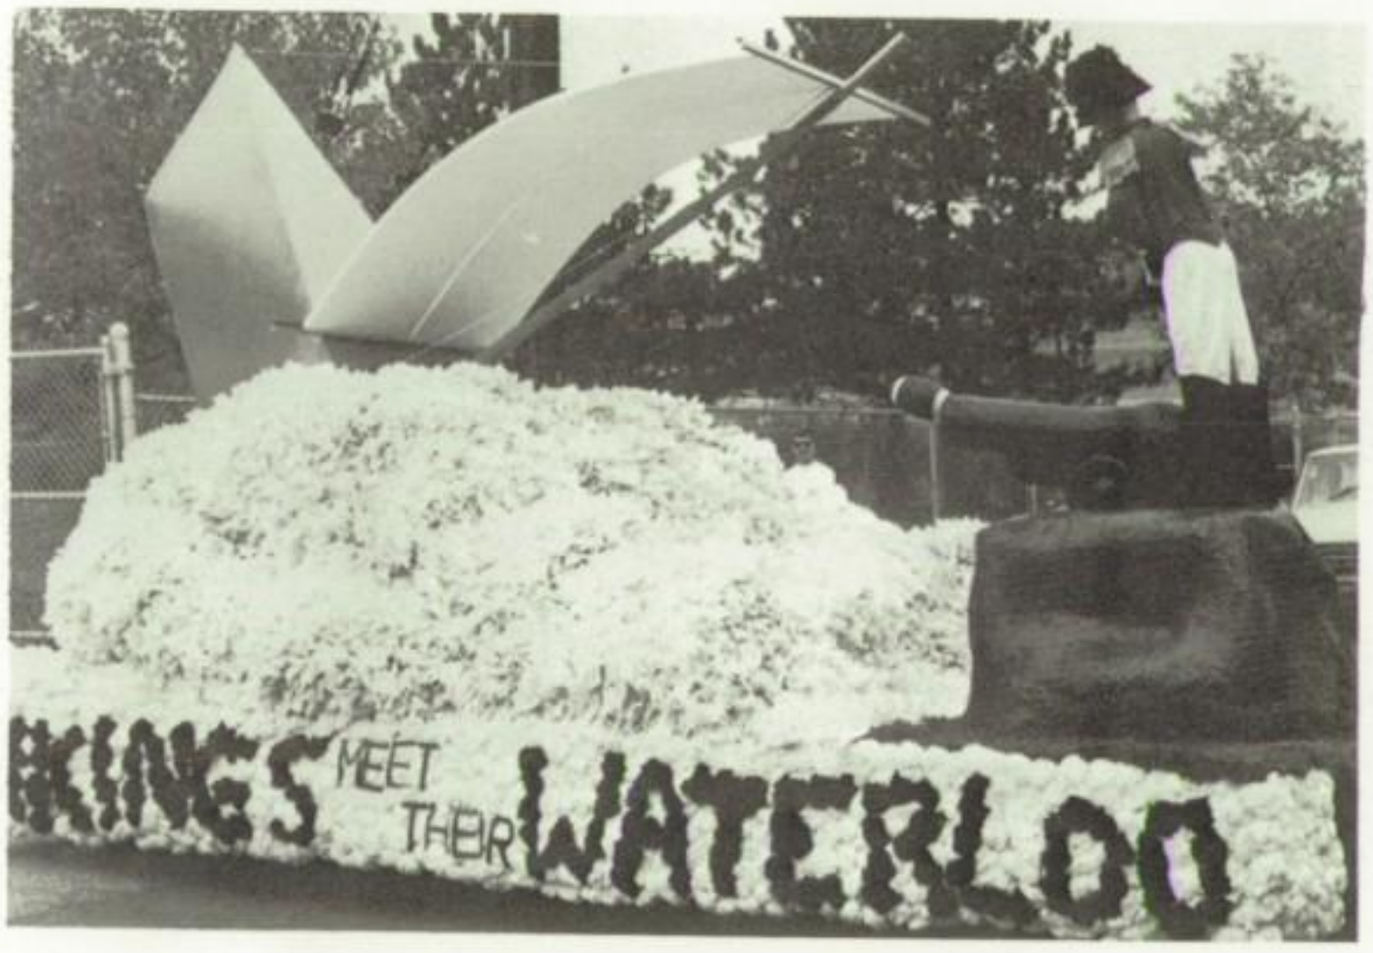
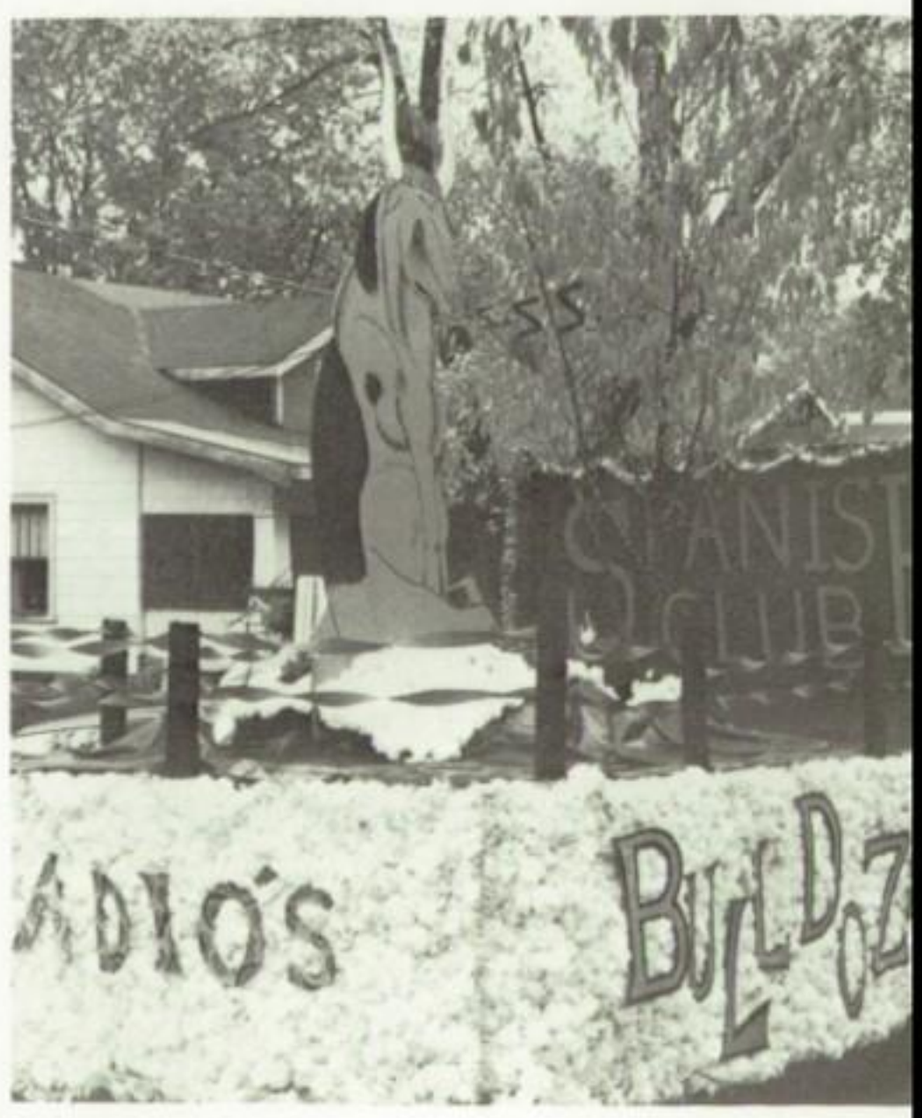
HOMECOMING '69

Homecoming is a tradition. Different floats, a new team, and modern dances can't change Homecoming. This year for the first time, the night previous to Homecoming, students had a bonfire. Perhaps it, too, will become part of the tradition. Still Homecoming and what it means remains the same. The graduates come back to relive a memory and the students who now attend Ritenour create one.

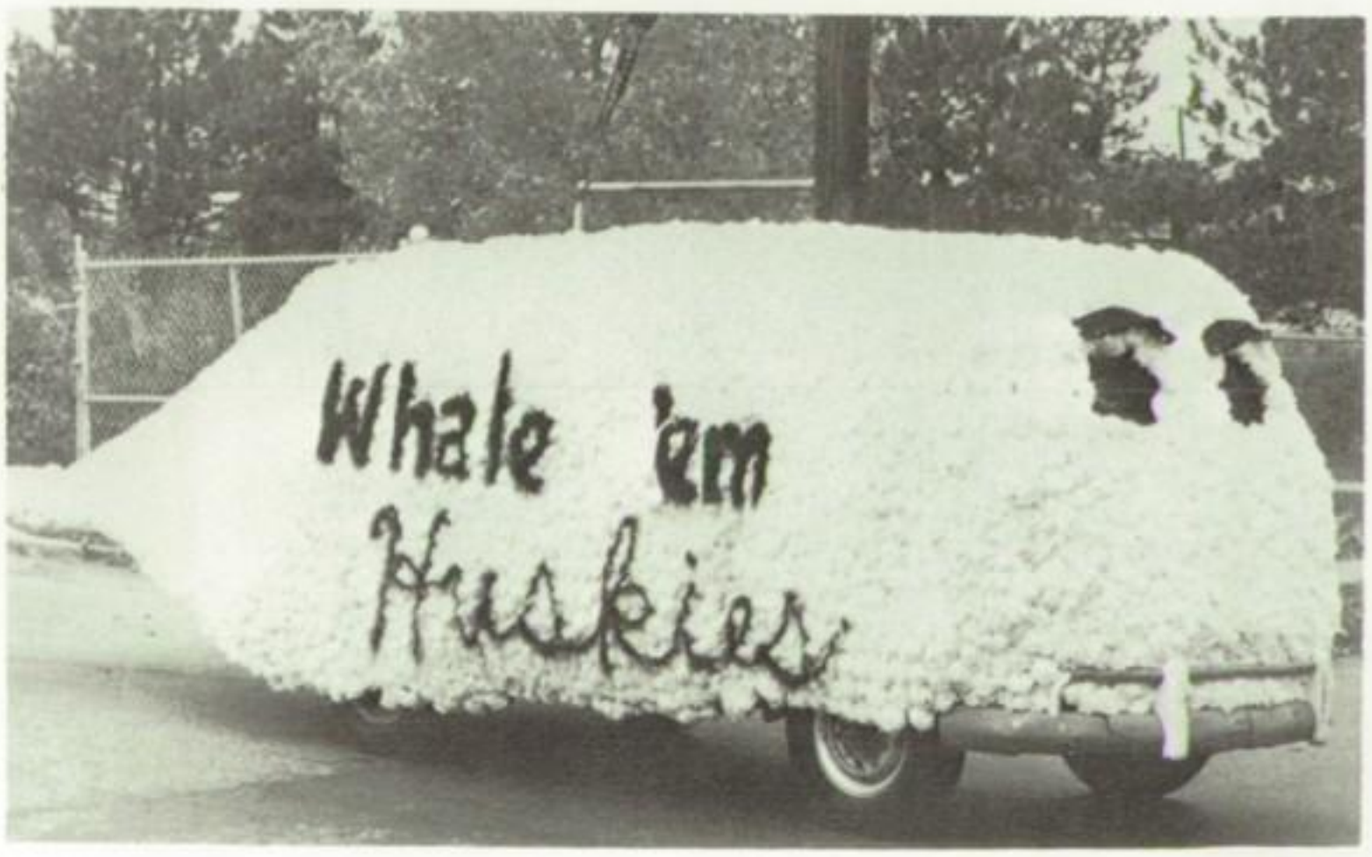
The Rhythmettes led the way in the parade.



Napoleon sank the Viking's ship on the French float.



The Spanish classes contributed a float to the Homecoming Parade for the first time.



German float won first prize in the float competition.

Homecoming '69

The Homecoming Parade contained a variety of imaginative floats entered by the different groups. The weather was good and people lined the streets to watch.

The floats leave the school.

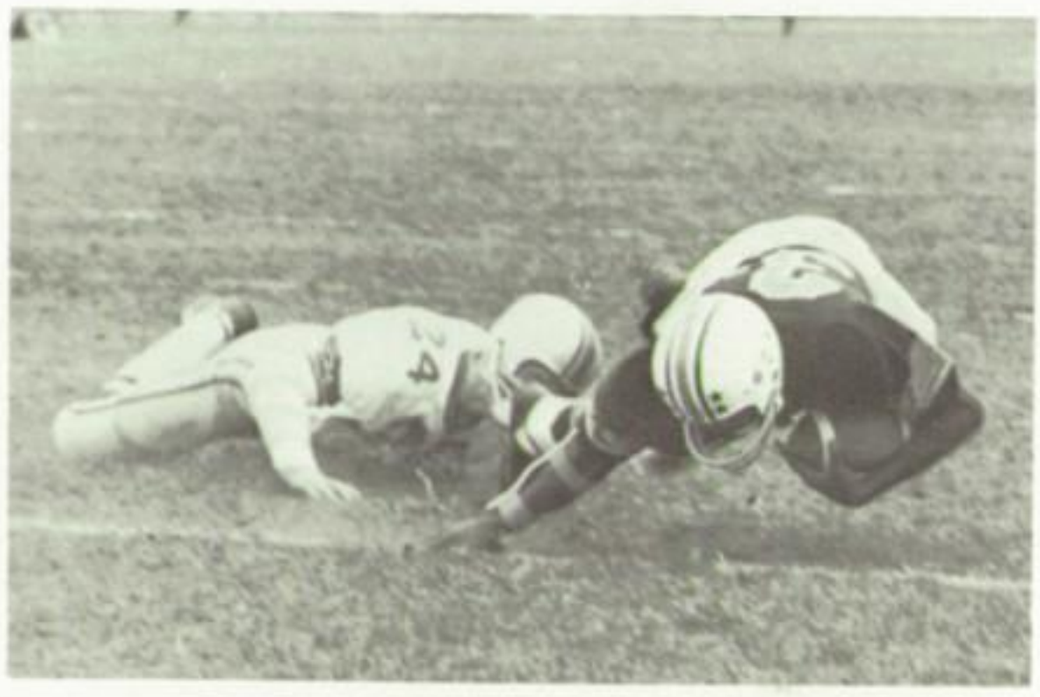
Homecoming '69

The spirits of the Homecoming crowd were not dampened by the rain. The Ritenour Huskies continued to do their best, but they could not break Normandy's defense. We lost the Wagon Wheel, but there's always next year.

The team fought on despite bad weather conditions.

Ritenour had tough competition.

Ritenour goes for the extra point.



Ritenour recives a pass.

The Huskies pursue the opposition.

The decorations depicting scenes from the WIZARD OF OZ were interesting.

Dancing was slow and romantic.

The Soul Tree and the Cashmeres provided the music.

The sky is falling.

Homecoming '69

The theme of the Homecoming Dance was "The Wizard of Oz." The hard work put into the decorations was well worth the effect. The music was also worthwhile. Altogether it was an enjoyable evening.

The senior class provided the refreshments.

They could have danced all night.

The evening was a romantic one.

(It's been exactly) 6 mo. today), and they've been the best months of my whole life. If I ever had to do it all over I know I'd still pick you! You're the greatest guy I know. No girl could ask for a better boyfriend. I only wish you knew how much you really mean to me! There just aren't enough words to describe how I feel about you. I only hope that someday soon you realize how much I really care for you, and that you won't think it's so one-sided. I know I'm not very good at saying what I feel. There were many times I should have told you "I Love You" and I didn't. But, I hope you did believe me when I did say how much "I Love You."

Remember the first night I met you? I'm going to have to thank John D. for that. You know I almost asked Judy, Donna, Pam, & Marsha - to come - I'm glad I didn't now! At least I know I had the first chance. You know were kind of like that old saying - 3rd time is the charm. The first time was when we met at the party. The second time you asked me to go out - was to your skeet range - after Maj. practice - Remember? The 3rd time was the charm - Our real first date was the Football game - Then Christmas Eve.
